WITH overflowing granaries,
Now let us all feel good,
Because, as sure as sinners live,
Down goes the price of food.
The grim, gaunt wolf no longer will
Be prowling at our door,
And "Praise the Lord," 'twill no more be
Such hard lines with the poor.

WHEAT and flour are on the down grade.

HARVEST hands are wanted everywhere in the county.

POTATOES dropped down to-day to thirty-five cents a peck.

ON account of harvesting, business has been rather dull in Maysville this week.

THE Republican has not yet been sold, rumors to the contrary notwithstanding.

THE Express suggests Ashland as an eligible place for holding the Congressional Convention.

SUBSCRIBERS to the DAILY BULLETIN who fail to receive the paper regularly, will please leave word at this office.

IF you wish to have a good time generally you will not fail to go to the moonlight fete in East Maysville this evening. There will be good music, dancing and refreshments of all kinds.

By the time the BULLETIN reaches its readers the last act of the Garfield tragedy will have taken place—the execution of the assassin Guiteau. The time fixed by law for the hanging was between noon and two o'clock.

MANY of the new buildings lately put up in this city have been paid for with money obtained from the Building Association. Many persons have thus made homes for themselves who would not otherwise have been able to do so.

AWFUL ACCIDENT ON THE JERSEY CENTRAL RAILROAD.

A Train Tumbles Into the River—Many Killed and Injured—Gen. Grant Among the Rescued.

LONG BRANCH, June 29th.—The express train leaving Long Branch at five minutes past eight this morning on the Central New Jersey met with a terrible accident while crossing the bridge over the branch of the Shrewsbury River, near Little Silver Station. The accident was no doubt caused by the spreading of rails. Six cars, four ordinary passenger coaches, the smoking and parlor car left the train and ran over the ties of the bridge, tearing them to splinters.

The cars kept on the bridge until the train was halfway across, when the four passenger coaches and the smoking car went over into the water with a terrible crash. The cars landed on their sides in about four feet of water. The scene that followed beggars description. An unknown man from Ocean Beach was taken out dead. The cars were filled with passengers, and the number of injured is unknown, but there were about one hundred hurt one way or another.

Demarest, of First, Demarest & Co., Read street, New York, was injured on the base of the skull, and will die.

Wm. R. Garrison, son of Commodore C. K. Garrison, was terribly hurt on the chest.

Charles M. Woodruff, of Newark, and J. Mitchell, of Scranton, are also seriously injured.

Charles H. Foster, fireman of the engine, pulled ex-president Grant out of the smoking car. Grant was not injured.

Robert Robertson, iron merchant from New York, was injured badly.

A grocer named Edison, of Blanchport, was crushed terribly.

James Brooks, of the firm of Brooks & Dickson, theatre troupe managers, of New York, had his collar bone broken.

Morris H. Brown, son of Thos. J. Brown, superintendent of the Erie Railroad, received a severe blow on the head and his back was injured.

C. J. Fox, of Richmond, Va., had his hand crushed.

James E. Mallory, 202 Broadway, was so badly crushed he cannot recover.

NEW YORK, June 29.—A Long Branch dispatch says: Annie Irwin, of Brooklyn is seriously hurt and unconscious. Wm. A. McCall, brakeman, was fearfully injured: throat badly cut.

Mr. Mitchell's condition is precarious; internal injuries. Mr. Woodruff and Mr. Mallory are about breathing their last.

John T. Raymond, the actor, had his collar bone broken and is otherwise severely injured. Fox, his father-in-law, was badly injured.

Mr. Garrison has both legs broken, in addition to his other injuries.

THE Lexington Transcript says: A well posted farmer informed us this morning that the wheat and barley crops will be the finest harvested for years. He thinks the wheat will average from twenty to thirty bushels to the acre, and the barley about forty bushels. The farmers are experiencing some difficulty in cutting, owing to the wet and moist condition of the ground, but should the weather prove favorable, threshing will commence in earnest next week.

Another Assassination.

NEW YORK, June 29, 1882.—A telegram has just been received from London announcing that Lord Clanricarde's agent, a man named Blake, and Keene, his steward, were murdered this morning, while on their way home from Naas.

See advertisement of lost keys elsewhere.

THE Portsmouth (O.) Tribune says:

Dr. Goodpaster and wife had a domestic difficulty Wednesday evening, which resulted in her leaving his bed and board and seeking the paternal roof at Maysville, Ky. Jealously was the cause.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Judge J. M. Harbeson was in Maysville yesterday.

Mrs. Jas. H. Bascom is visiting the family of Mrs. S. C. Pearce.

A HEATER attached to the engine at the cotton mills exploded Thursday afternoon, about halfpast three o'clock, fortunately without injury to any of the operatives. It was thrown through a roof twenty-five feet high and, it is supposed, fell in the river, as it could not be found.

WORK was discontinued at the cotton mill yesterday, to make needed repairs which will probably consume two weeks. On Saturday the proprietors will furnish a dinner to the operatives, to be given in one of the rooms at the mill. It is to be furnished by Mr. F. H. Traxel, which is a guarantee that it will be the best.

A special to the Galveston (Tex.) News from Alletton, Tex., under the date of June 24, says Robert G. Armstrong, of Maysville, Ky., brutally murdered Meller Boyd, of Illinois. While the two were quietly talking on the street a dispute arose, which ended in Armstrong shooting Boyd twice, one ball penetrating the brain.

THE regular monthly communion service at the Third street M. E. Church will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and at 8 p. m. Preaching by the pastor. Everybody made welcome. Also, at 3 p. m., there will be a meeting exclusively for the members of the church, and each member is hereby notified to be present without fail.

E. L. SANDERS

Pastor Third street M. E. Church.

MR. GEORGE ORT, jr., whose establishment is on Sutton street below Second, desires to say to the people of Maysville and neighborhood that he is selling all kinds of furniture lower than any other house in Maysville. You have only to call and convince yourself that what he says is true. He has a large and elegant stock on hand. Fine bedroom sets a specialty. To save money call and see him. jyldltw2t.

THE one hundredth anniversary of the battle of the Blue Licks which is the 19th day of next August, has been selected by the Blue Lick Battle Monument Association as the time for laying the corner stone of the monument.
